

Dear Parents and carers,

Thank you all for celebrating Education Week 2019 with us. The staff and students celebrated a fun filled week of learning. Thanks to those of you who were able to visit our open classrooms. We always enjoy your visits and enthusiastic participation in our lessons.

The mysterious eggs provided a wonderful opportunity for writing. We hope to put together a book of student work to demonstrate how one activity can provide so many opportunities for teaching and learning. Thank you to the staff and parents that assisted with making the story survive the week.

Traffic warning.

I just want to remind you all that the road through the University Village is a public road, open to traffic. I was reminded of this myself this morning while I was taking in the blue sky and birds and found myself in the path of a moving vehicle. I know it is a wonderful hill to ride, skate and run down but please remind your children that the area where the zebra crossing is marked is actually an intersection.

Please also remember that the car park is for staff only and not available for parents to park.

Wakakirri

Congratulations again to the wonderful staff, students and parents involved in Wakakirri this year. The months of preparation culminated in a wonderful performance at the NIDA Parade Theatre on Monday night. Thank you to the staff and parents who spent so much time preparing a wonderful performance.

Good Luck

Good luck to the students in the combined Darlington Newtown North Bands who will be performing in the Australian School Band and Orchestra festival next week.

Congratulations and good luck to our Eisteddfod Performers and Public Speakers. They have worked very hard to achieve their exceptional results. Thanks also to Ms Foster who has worked hard with the students to develop their skills.

Mobile Muster

If you have any old mobile phones at home and do not know how to recycle them we currently have a Mobile Muster Box in the front office. You can bring them in and they will be properly recycled. The collection will be available for another two weeks.

Changes in the office

Please note that Libby will be on leave for the next two weeks and Sue will be on leave until further notice. Heather will be working in the office replacing Sue while she is on leave and Shona will be helping out on the front desk while Libby is away. We wish Libby happy travels and hope that Sue is well on the road to recovery. Thank you to Heather and Shona who are very busily learning how to run our front office.

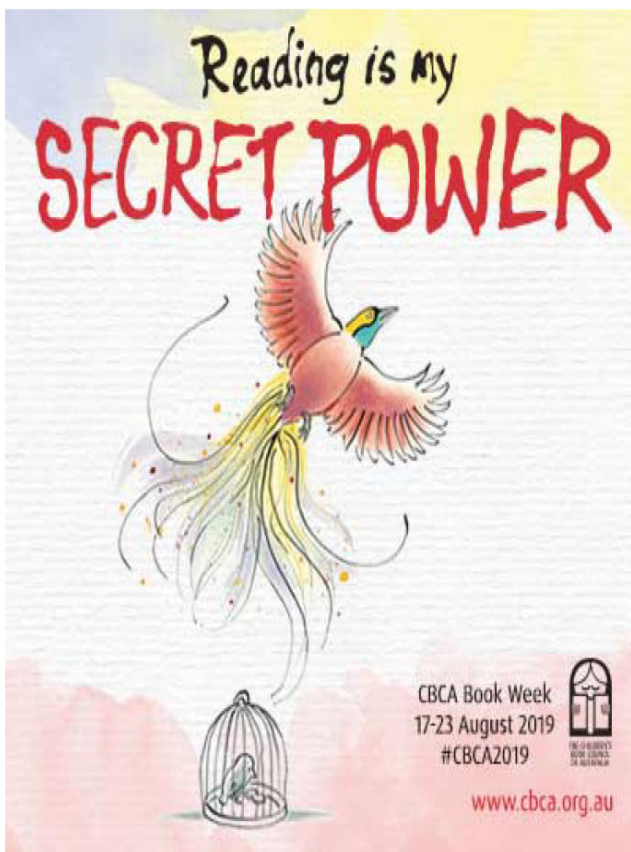

Air conditioning

Our school cooling project is underway with equipment being delivered and after hours work scheduled to start on Monday. It is anticipated that work will be finished by the end of the term ready for the first hot day of summer in term 4.

Hoping you all have an enjoyable and relaxing weekend

Elizabeth

WAKAKIRRI

Australia's Largest Performing Arts Event for Schools

What an amazing night!

Congratulations to the Wakakirri group for an amazing performance on Monday night. Mr Breen, Caitlin and I were so proud of every single student in our Wakakirri group. The students behaved and performed so well and took out The Spirit of Wakakirri Award. This award goes to the school with students that show support and kindness to their peers, teachers and the other schools. Keep an eye out in the week 6 newsletter for recounts from some of our Wakakirri students!
